REPORT

Career counseling and guidance session conducted by Ashish Gupta on May 2, 2024, utilizing the MYERS BRIGGS TYPE INDICATOR assessment sheet alongside Bachelor of physiotherapy, Masters of physiotherapy, and Bachelor of Optometry Students in which 51 students took the session aimed to provide personalized career guidance by Ashish Gupta to residue students based on their individual profiles, using the MYERS BRIGGS TYPE INDICATOR assessment sheet.

Each participant, including Ashish Gupta, underwent the MYERS BRIGGS TYPE INDICATOR assessment process. This involved evaluating their skills, interests, personality traits, and values. Following the assessment, group analysis sessions were conducted to discuss common trends, strengths, and areas of improvement among the participants. Individual consultations were conducted with Ashish Gupta and other students to review their assessment results in detail. This provided an opportunity to delve deeper into their unique profiles and aspirations.

Based on the assessment results, career exploration sessions were held to introduce participants to various career options within the fields. Emphasis was placed on aligning career choices with individual interests, strengths, and values. Personalized recommendations were provided to Ashish Gupta and other participants, including educational pathways, skill development opportunities, and potential job roles or further studies within their respective fields of interest.

Each participant, was encouraged to develop an action plan outlining steps to pursue their chosen career path. By leveraging the MYERS BRIGGS TYPE INDICATOR assessment sheet and personalized consultations, participants were empowered to make informed decisions about their future careers.
