Activity Detail - World Population Day is celebrated on the 11th of July every year to raise awareness about global population issues and the various importance of reproductive health and rights. India's population in 2024 stands at slightly over 1.428 billion. The poster competition was organized for the students of Government Inter College, Nagthat on the theme of “To Leave No One Behind, Count Everyone”. A brief introduction of World Population Day, why we celebrate it, the history of World Population Day, and various components of this day, and the importance of family planning, gender equality, poverty, and maternal health were explained to the students before the initiation of the competition. 30 students from each inter-college participated in the competition with 6 groups (5 students in each group). Prizes were distributed to the qualified group based on the best poster and the explanation about what they made in the poster.
